Vol. 54 #1

This editions listing starts with two corrections to previous identifications which highlight the difficulties of providing correct species details without having all the information to hand. The stamp from Cameroun was simply listed by Scott as depicting a baboon and without the stamp to hand, I listed as a Hamadryas Baboon. Having seen the Michel catalogue listing, I find that the animal depicted is actually a Drill. In the case of the Ecuador set, the original set of 5 values I obtained had species details printed on 4 values, but nothing on the porcupine stamp. My identification was therefore based on the distribution of the genus members. At a later date, a second set came to hand and I found that on this one the porcupine stamp did have identification details, my original copy being a printing error. The corrected porcupine species is new to stamps; and as the previous identification was also listed as new, this should be now be deleted as having appeared on a stamp.

Following the stamp listing, I have provided a further list of amendments based on the new Duff & Lawson mammal species listing. This book now gives 5 species of baboons under the genus Papio, rather than the previous single species with 5 subspecies. The listing provides details of all Papio baboons depicted on stamps from 1990 to date.
