

PALEONTOLOGY

Wallace Ashby, BU 1351

Vol. 53 #4

PART I: INFORMATION COMPLETE

CAMBODIA	October 23, 2003 (Human Evolution).
2150	100 r	Early man, Australopithecus anamensis
2151	200 r	Early man, Australopithecus afarensis
2152	300 r	Early man, Australopithecus africanus
2153	500 r	Early man, Australopithecus rudolfensis
2154	500 r	Early man, Australopithecus boisei
2155	1000 r	Early man, Homo habilis
2156	1500 r	Early man Homo erectus
2157	4000 r	Early man, Homo sapiens neanderthalensis
2158 S/S	5400 r	Modern man, Homo sapiens sapiens

INDONESIA February 29, 2004

2057d 1500 r Fossil

This stamp, which features the Geology Museum in Bandung, is listed in the By Topic section of Scott Stamp Monthly of December 2004 under Dinosaurs and Prehistoric Animals but the animal skeleton depicted isn't identified.

SWITZERLAND September 7, 2004

1186 100 c Marine reptile, Neusticosaurus, Triassic

Fossilized marine reptile from Monte San Giorgio, a UNESCO World Heritage site in Switzerland.

ZAIRE (Democratic Republic of the Congo) August 2004

1547 25 IT surcharge Dinosaur, Scutellosaurus, Jurassic

25 fr surcharge on unissued 20,000 z stamp, type of 2000. Four additional surcharges exist, according to Scott Stamp Monthly.

PART D: INFORMATION INCOMPLETE

LIECHTENSTEIN November 22, 2004.

- 1.20 fr Ammonite, Mystoceras cressicostatum
- 1.30 fr Sea Urchin, Discoidea sp.
- 2.20 fr Shark Tooth, Lambiformes

MOROCCO July 12, 2004

-- 6.50 d Dinosaur, Tazoudasaurus naimi, Jurassic

Head of the dinosaur. Issued to commemorate the discovery of the Tazoudasaurus naimi dinosaur.

NOTE: Eritrea postal authorities have declared "illegal" the following items, among many others, as reported in Scott Stamp Monthly: Sheetlets of four 3n stamps depicting Dinosaurs (with Scouting emblem) and Dinosaurs (with Rotary emblem); Sheetlets of three 5n stamps depicting Dinosaurs (with Rotary emblem) (two different); souvenir sheet with one 8n stamp depicting Dinosaurs (with Rotary emblem).